

Dakota Farm Show Extension Seminars

January 4 and 5, 2017;
Vermillion, SD

Program free of charge and open to public

January 4 Presentations

10:00 am – 10:50 am ▪ Climate Trends and Crop Production; Elwynn Taylor, Extension Climatologist, Iowa State University

11:00 am – 11:40 am ▪ Soil Biology and Crop Production – Viewpoint of a Microbiologist; Mike Lehman, USDA-ARS Soil Microbiologist

1:30 pm – 2:20 pm ▪ High Tunnel Basics in Vegetable and Fruit Production for Beginners; Terry Nennich, Extension Professor Emeritus, University of Minnesota Extension

2:30 pm – 3:20 pm ▪ High Tunnel Vegetable and Fruit Production for Experienced Growers; Terry Nennich, Extension Professor Emeritus, University of Minnesota Extension

Dr. Peter Sexton | Southeast Research Farm Supervisor
Southeast Research Farm, 29974 University Road, Beresford, SD
605-563-2989 | peter.sexton@sdstate.edu

January 5 Presentations

10:00 am – 10:25 am ▪ Work with Cover Crops for Corn and Cattle at Southeast Research Farm; Peter Sexton and Brad Rops, SDSU, Southeast Research Farm

10:25 am – 10:50 am ▪ Cereal Rye as a Cover Crop in South Dakota; Anthony Bly, Soils Field Specialist, SDSU Extension

11:00 am – 11:25 am ▪ First-hand Experience With Building Soil Quality – One Farmer's Point of View; Dan Gillespie, No-till Farmer from Nebraska

11:25 am – 11:50 am ▪ Measuring Soil Health – Assessment Tools; Jeff Hemenway, NRCS Soil Health Specialist

1:30 pm – 2:20 pm ▪ Cooking for Large Groups; Food Safety in Church and Community Kitchens; Laverne Meyer, Retired Food Safety Specialist, SDSU Extension

2:30 pm – 3:20 pm ▪ Meats under Pressure; Preserving Meat Using a Pressure Canner; Laverne Meyer, Retired Food Safety Specialist, SDSU Extension

